

DOWN

1 Selling the land meant it couldn't be returned to Māori if there was a successful _____. (6,5)

2 In 1990, the Government assessed Paraparaumu Airport as being _____, or not commercially viable.

3 Of the Government's four options, the one it preferred was to turn the aerodrome into a company and sell the Government's _____ to groups likely to continue running it as an airport.

4 After World War Two, the aerodrome was used as a _____ and recreational aerodrome.

6 The OAG found that MOT's decision to start negotiating with one of the businesses bidding for the aerodrome before the tender deadline was not good _____.

7 The aerodrome was originally built during World War Two for _____ purposes.

ACROSS

5 The MOT consulted with iwi and _____ that had lodged claims with the Waitangi Tribunal.

8 The MOT decided to sell the aerodrome as a _____ (an operating business), with a value of $1.6 million. (5, 7)

9 The MOT found the aerodrome wasn't commercially _____ without selling the land.